COVID-19: Loans to micro enterprise

Factsheet generated on 24 April 2020, 13:43

Country	Bulgaria, applies nationwide
Time period	Open ended, started on 14 April 2020
Type	Legislation or other statutory regulation
Category	Supporting businesses to stay afloat – Access to finance
Case created	15 April 2020

Background Information

It allows young companies to choose, if their employees are valuable, if there are other reasons not to take advantage of the 60:40 measure, to be able to finance themselves with a working loan to retain staff.

The possibility of these loans being interest-free over the period of the crisis is being considered.

The portfolio guarantee applied by the Fund may also be used after the end of the period of emergency and, according to the Fund, is a suitable product for financial recovery at a time when banks would again be uncertain about lending to the business.

Content of measure

The Fund will provide banks with guarantees worth BGN 170 million, and expects them to provide loans of up to BGN 850 million, mainly for small and medium-sized enterprises, in the next one year. The Microcredit Fund tool is aimed at small companies - the so-called micro-enterprises, as well as companies that have just started their business (to have up to three years of business history at the moment, with possible expansion - up to five years).

The idea is to enable banks to support this vulnerable group of start-ups that may have started a small family business with loans up to BGN 50,000. This will support their investment plans for the crisis and working capital so that they can continue their operations

Use of measure

This tool is aimed at a target group of recipients who generally do not have easy access or have no access to bank financing at all - companies with no credit history
