Background Information

In the corona crisis, the city of Vienna does everything it can to keep the city's economy going. This measure is addressed at the more than 60,000 Viennese micro, small and medium-sized companies which are currently particularly dependent on support, for example when it comes to the necessary switch to a home office. Support is provided via the Vienna business agency (Wirtschaftsagentur) in collaboration with the Vienna Economic Chamber (WKW).

Content of measure

The funding program supports Viennese companies to set up teleworking stations and to create stable communication between teleworking stations and the company location or locations. These include:

Advisory measures by third parties

investment measures for IT technical facilities

Consulting service for hardware and software equipment of the teleworking system, IT hardware and software

It is targeted at small and medium-sized companies as well as micro-enterprises from Vienna

Submission : Continually online with the online funding application; retrospectively from 1.3.2020

The applications are assessed by experts from the Vienna Business Agency.

Funding rate: 75%; up to 10,000 euros per project.

Use of measure

The uptake was substantial. In the first week of funding, 700 applications were received by the Vienna Business Agency. The originally envisaged funds of 2 mio euro were reported to have been exhausted and further tripled.
