Background Information

The government, in the context of the “measures to address the COVID 19 pandemic and other emergency provisions”, introduced changes in the payment of the Easter bonus for businesses affected by COVID 19 and foresees the payment by the State of part of the Easter bonus to the employees with a job contract under suspension. According to this law, the Easter bonus for 2020 can be paid by June 30, 2020 for those workers who are under suspension of work and will be paid by the employer and the state.

Content of measure

The government, in the context of the “measures to address the COVID 19 pandemic and other emergency provisions”, legislated changes for businesses affected by COVID 19 on their obligation to pay the Easter. The regulation foresees the payment by the state of a part of the Easter bonus for those employees whose their job contract is under suspension. More specifically, the amount of the Easter bonus to be paid by the employer to the employees of the aforementioned category is reduced and calculated on the basis of the actual work period before the suspension of the job contract. The remaining amount of the Easter bonus is paid by the state. The state is also pays for the corresponding social security contributions. It is noted that the Easter bonus applies for the work period from January 1 to April 30 of the current year and amounts approximately to ½ of the monthly salary.

Use of measure

The number of employees affected by the measure is not known. The measure is expected to include all those who receive the extraordinary financial aid as “special purpose indemnification” to employees, amounting to €800
