Background Information

In late November 2019 the Croatian Parliament passed a series of laws amending Croatian tax legislation. The new laws, in the most part, came into effect on 1 January 2020. Due to corona virus pandemic The General Tax Act has been amended introducing an article related to "Payment of taxes in special circumstances as follows:

Article 107a

- (1) "Special circumstances" means an event or a condition which could not be predicted and could not be affected, which endangers the life and health of citizens, property of greater value, significantly damages the environment, disrupts economic activity or causes significant economic damage.
- (2) If the special circumstances referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article affect the ability to settle tax liabilities, the maturity of tax liabilities incurred and / or due in accordance with special regulations may be deferred and / or their installment repayment may be authorized.
- (3) No interest shall be accrued for the duration of the deferred payment and installment payments referred to in paragraph 2 of this Article.

The conditions, criteria and procedures for using this legal option are stipulated by the amendments to the Ordinance on the Implementation of the General Tax Law (OG 35/20), which entered into force on 23 March 2020.

Content of measure

Any taxpayer affected by the coronavirus epidemic can file a tax deferral claim, provided that: a) he or she does not have outstanding tax liabilities recorded in the Tax Administration higher than HRK 200.00 and b) he or she fulfills one of the following conditions : 1) has recorded a decrease in income/receipts in the month preceding the month of the Request submission by at least 20% compared to the same month of the previous year, or 2) if he/she makes it probable that his/her income/receipts will decrease by at least 20% over the same period of the previous year, starting with the month of the submission of the Request. Deferred (delayed) tax liabilities relate to personal income tax and social contributions, contributions for compulsory insurance of self-employment, social contributions for persons on professional training without commencing employment, contributions and taxes on additional income (drugi dohodak), advance payment of personal income tax liabilities, advance payment of personal income tax liabilities from self-employment, advance payment on company and other tax liabilities due upon filing the Request, other than customs duties and excise duties.
